APRIL 13th: Film screening of No! The Rape Documentary

Stanley A. Milner Library, 6:30 p.m.—8:30 p.m.

Produced and directed by Aishah Shahdiah Simmons, an incest and rape survivor, this groundbreaking feature length documentary offers riveting testimonials from Black women rape survivors who defy victimization. Violence prevention advocates, theologians, sociologists, historians, anthropologists, and other leading scholars and human rights activists provide an interdisciplinary context with which to examine sexual violence in African-American communities. They also explore how rape is used as a weapon of homophobia.
